224th Commencement Ceremony

May 2025

Dear Graduates,

Today is a special day for our community. This is the day we celebrate all you have accomplished during your time at our beloved UVM—the explorations and discoveries, academic milestones and personal achievements, and the lifelong relationships made with mentors and friends.

I am so very proud of each of you, and I am excited for your future. I hope that you sense the pride that all of us at UVM feel as we celebrate you alongside your families and friends. We know first-hand all that you have to offer as you continue your efforts for people and planet. Together, you have worked for meaningful change in the world, your impact is seen, and you have built strong relationships that will serve you well in life beyond UVM.

Hope for a healthy community and a healthy environment is foundational to our approach and essential to our success at UVM. Our focus on people and planet speaks to the sense of purpose that so many of you, our newest alumni, have pursued in your studies, and the priorities our faculty and staff have set, inviting you to work alongside them conducting research with global impact and preparing you for a future of constructive engagement and meaningful change.

A commencement celebration is an occasion for joy and for reflection. I hope today is full of both for you. Remember the words of Ralph Waldo Emerson, “What lies behind you and what lies in front of you, pales in comparison to what lies inside of you.” You are amazing young people, and I can’t wait to see all that you accomplish as you step forward in your lifelong journey of learning and impact. I know you will make your alma mater proud.

With love and care,

Patricia A. Prelock

RECESSIONAL

Honorary Degree Recipients

JAMES M. BETTS '69, M.D.'73

Commencement Speaker

Doctor of Science, honoris causa

Born and raised in Bennington, Vermont, James Betts grew up a block away from his local fire station and would race to the station on his bike to watch the firefighters turn out when the sirens sounded. He became a member of the local rescue squad in high school. While his interest in firefighting persisted, once he entered college at UVM his focus shifted toward emergency medicine. A first-generation college student, Dr. Betts launched his medical career at UVM's Larner College of Medicine. His education there was the beginning of a long and distinguished career marked by service to his patients and a tireless devotion to his alma mater.

Having chosen pediatric surgery as his specialty, after graduating from medical school Dr. Betts spent ten years studying in four residencies before settling in California. A pediatric surgeon and urologist at the University of California San Francisco Benioff Children's Hospital in Oakland, Calif., Dr. Betts was the founding director of the hospital's pediatric trauma program. He has responded to multiple crises in California including the 1989 Bay Area earthquake, rendering urgent medical treatment to victims in the field, for which he was awarded the American Medical Association Medal of Valor, the State of California Award of Valor, and letters of commendation from the President George H. W. Bush and the governors of California and Vermont.

Drawn to the challenge of responding to needs of people caught up in natural emergencies, at 60 years old Dr. Betts adjusted his 80-hour work week to undertake firefighter training and began serving the Big Sur Fire Department as a volunteer firefighter, EMT, and search and rescue team member. In 2015 he received the company's Firefighter of the Year honor.

Dr. Betts was the U.S. Olympic Committee team doctor from 1979 to 1983 and became a founding member of the USOC Anti-Doping Committee. He stayed connected with the Larner College of Medicine, serving in multiple roles, including President of the Larner College Medical Alumni Executive Committee and the Dean's Advisory Board. For his loyalty and dedication to the College, Dr. Betts received the A. Bradley Soule Award in 2003. The UVM Alumni Association also presented him with its Distinguished Service Award in recognition of his extensive involvement in UVM admissions, career, and alumni programming in the San Francisco Bay area. Dr. Betts served on UVM's Board of Trustees from 2004 to 2010 and was instrumental in the decision to establish the UVM Foundation—he was an inaugural member of the UVM Foundation Leadership Council in 2011 and served as a director on the UVM Foundation Board from 2016–2022. He is a current member of the UVM Foundation Leadership Council, UVM Libraries Board of Advisors, and the Firestone Medical Research Building Fundraising Committee.

Dr. Betts credits his mother, widowed early in his life, with instilling dedication and commitment as guiding principles for living a good life. The mission of working as part of a team to answer the call of greatest need in the moment has guided him down his long path of service.

DAVID A. DAIGLE '89

Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa

David A. Daigle was born in Burlington, the son of rural Vermonters and small business owners. A first-generation college student, he pursued a path different from the business-succession plan that his father had hoped for, graduating from UVM in 1989 with a degree in business administration. Daigle went on to earn an MBA from the University of Chicago before embarking on a career with Capital Group in New York City, where he now works as a partner and fixed income portfolio manager.

As Daigle describes it, his father was reluctant to support his son's college plan, but "once he saw what happened to me over the four years at UVM, and where I went afterward, he became a huge supporter of higher education."

The same can be said of David Daigle. Described by colleagues as "one of the most impactful alumni in UVM history," Daigle has given generously of his time, talents, and treasure to help UVM students prepare for their professional futures and to lay a foundation for UVM to succeed as a university now and into the decades to come.

A member of UVM's Board of Trustees from 2010 to 2020, Daigle chaired the Board from 2016 to 2020, a transformational period in UVM history.

With an aggressive facilities-building effort already underway, as board chair Daigle played a leadership role in Move Mountains: The Campaign for the University of Vermont. The $500 million capital campaign—the most ambitious in the university’s history—raised over $581 million from more than 75,000 donors. In addition to focusing on investments in endowed faculty positions and strategic program advancements, Daigle presided over construction of buildings that reshaped campus life and laid a foundation for future growth for UVM, including the Central Campus Residence Hall; Discovery and Innovation Halls, which provide state-of-the-art facilities for students and researchers in the STEM fields; and the Michele and Martin Cohen Hall for the Integrative Creative Arts.

David and his wife, Beth Daigle ’89, are members of the UVM Foundation Leadership Council and have given generously to a wide variety of programs and initiatives, including the Grossman School of Business, faculty endowments, facilities improvements, and student scholarships. In 2023, Daigle received the Distinguished Service Award from UVM’s Alumni Foundation. He is a board member and treasurer of the Children of Fallen Patriots Foundation, a 501(c)3 providing college scholarships and educational counseling to military children who have lost a parent in the line of duty.

ROY V. HILL II

Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa

Roy V. Hill II was the first of eight children born into a Haywood County, Tennessee family that placed a high priority on education. “Be somebody, get an education,” an uncle advised him at an early age. Hill soon recognized education was not only a gateway for new opportunities but a call to serve others. He earned a bachelor’s degree from Talladega College and a master’s from Washington University.

A longtime professional in higher education development and administration, Hill held leadership positions at Washington University, Dartmouth College, and Brown University, and the National Association for Equal Opportunity in Higher Education before being recruited as director of corporate and foundation relations at UVM. A strong advocate for building bridges through community service, he spearheaded UVM’s educational, research, and cultural partnership with Jackson State University, a historically Black institution in Mississippi.

Hill has supported many Vermont community, faith-based, and educational institutions. He is a charter member of the Burlington Vermont Area Chapter of the NAACP, past president of the Vermont Ecumenical Council and Bible Society, and former program director for Spectrum Youth and Family Services in Vermont, where he facilitated youth development and leadership training initiatives and founded the Youth and Faith Development for the Future program that established relationships with interfaith communities. In 2010 he was appointed by Vermont Governor Jim Douglas to the Governor’s Workforce Equity and Diversity Council and was asked to serve as the Vermont Governor’s representative to the National Black Leadership Summit in Washington, DC. Hill organized the state’s first Juneteenth conference in 2002 and was instrumental in Vermont adopting a Juneteenth state holiday, celebrating the end of slavery in the United States. Hill and his wife, Shirley Boyd-Hill, are founding members of New Alpha Missionary Baptist Church in Burlington, the only Vermont Baptist church that worships in an African American tradition.

In 2008, Roy V. Hill and his siblings launched the Hill Memorial Foundation in honor of their parents. The public charity mission is dedicated to loving, uplifting, and empowering communities through educational and strategic programs that address systemic inequities that hurt people and end lives. Key initiatives of the mission also include empowering farmers to sustain land ownership, fostering rehabilitation for the formerly incarcerated, and providing life-changing support for unhoused adults and children.

Mortar Board

Mortar Board is a national honor society that recognizes undergraduate students for distinguished ability and achievement in scholarship, leadership, and service. While it is an honor to be selected for membership in Mortar Board, it is the commitment to continue to serve that differentiates an honor society from an honorary society. Mortar Board chapters across the nation are challenged to provide thoughtful leadership to the campus and community, to create an environment of effective communication, to move toward a meaningful goal, and to maintain the ideals of the society.

Academic Regalia

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME worn today in U.S. colleges and universities is a survivor of the Middle Ages. The University of Vermont was among the first in this country to experiment with the use of academic gowns, requiring their wearing at the graduation of 1806. The experiment was not repeated until mid-century when UVM and other colleges began wholeheartedly to use the medieval scholar's clothing for ceremonial occasions.

The code regulating academic costume is administered by an intercollegiate commission that establishes uniform standards. BACHELORS' gowns have closed fronts and long, pointed sleeves. MASTERS' gowns may be worn open or closed and have oblong sleeves open at the wrist, the lower portion hanging down with an arc near the bottom. DOCTORS' gowns may be open or closed and have velvet facings and three velvet bars on the round, open sleeves. The facings and bars may be of black or of the official colors of the wearer's department of learning.

Hoods are usually black. All are lined in silk in the academic color or colors of the institution conferring the degree, with a chevron for additional colors. A University of Vermont hood is lined with green, with a gold chevron, the official school colors. The color of the hood border indicates the degree earned.

THE BLACK MORTARBOARD is worn for all degrees. Only Doctors' caps may be made of velvet and only Doctors or Presidents of institutions may wear a gold tassel on the cap.

THE CLASS OF 1927 MEMORIAL MACE is carried by the University Marshal at formal university occasions and is displayed on the platform during these ceremonies.

The Mace, a gift from the Class of 1927, is forty-seven inches long, cast bronze, plated in silver, with a black ebony handle. The sculpture on one of the four sides depicts the center section of Old Mill with Mt. Mansfield in the background, symbolizing the founding of the University. Other sides display three students reaching upwards to a lamp, symbolic of learning; the Ira Allen Chapel, symbolizing spiritual guidance; and a group of four persons, symbolizing friendship. It is crowned by the seal of the University.

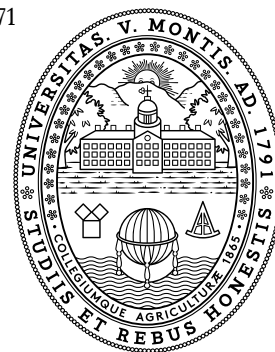

The Mace was designed and the model sculpted by Richard Simpson, son of Carl G. and Doris Griffith Simpson, both members of the Class of 1927.

THE UNIVERSITY SEAL or Medallion was adopted in 1807 and used until 1871 when it was replaced by a round seal incorporating the name of the College of Agriculture. In 1975 the Board of Trustees voted to restore the original seal to official use, modified to incorporate the Latin name of the College of Agriculture.

The motto on the seal is from Horace, Epistles 1.2.36. Literally, it means "For virtuous studies and matters." In the allusion to Horace's poem it reflects UVM's continuing belief in the utility and practicality of all liberal studies.

TUNE: JANE OPPENLANDER '79, G'81 | TEXT: DAVID COX '49

From the lofty peaks of Mansfield
to the shores of Lake Champlain,
comes a mighty swelling chorus,
whose echo will remain:

Vermont! Vermont! Vermont!
Our University!
Our hearts and minds and voices
sing in love and praise to Thee!

Vermont! Vermont! Vermont!
Our University!
Our hearts and minds and voices
sing in love and praise to Thee!

Shadows falling 'cross the campus,
changing seasons' wond'rous scene,
stir our thoughts of Alma Mater,
and the colors Gold and Green:

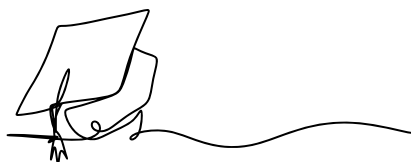

Vermont! Vermont! Vermont!
Our University!
Our hearts and minds and voices
Sing in love and praise to Thee!

Vermont! Vermont! Vermont!
Our University!
Our hearts and minds and voices
Sing in love and praise to Thee!
